

The Colleges of the Fenway is a collaborative of six neighboring Boston-based colleges in the Fenway area. The COF consortium was created to add value to student academic and social life while seeking innovative methods of investing in new services and containing the costs of higher education.

PERFORMING ARTS – Improvise a soaring jazz solo, conduct a symphony, discover some new dance moves, or try your hand at directing. Join the orchestra, chorus, dance ensemble, theatre troupe, or jazz band, all part of the COF Performing Arts program. Whether you are a student, faculty, or staff, you can find an opportunity to explore an interest or improve your skills. You can also minor in performing arts through an academic program that integrates performance experience with classroom studies.

INTRAMURALS – For all COF members, intramurals are the perfect way to stay active. Whether you were a former high school or college athlete, or just want to try your hand at a new sport, intramurals have something for everyone. COF leagues provide competition in an array of traditional and non-traditional sports. Participants create teams with their friends or residence hall community and the COF provides the leagues, space, officials, and equipment. It's free to play, and teams are encouraged to incorporate players from across the six colleges.

GEO CENTER – College is a chance to explore the world, and the COF Global Education Opportunities (GEO) Center works directly with the six colleges to help you find the perfect study, internship, or co-op abroad program. Can't fit an entire semester abroad into your academic plan? The six colleges of the COF offer many short-term travel courses, which are on-campus, semester-long courses with a short-term travel component.

CROSS-REGISTRATION - The hallmark of the six college consortium, cross-registration enables students to take courses that may not be offered at their home institution, in addition to the chance to create unique academic minors. More than 1,200 cross-registration courses are available. Since the consortium's inception, hundreds of COF members cross-register each year.

CENTER FOR SUSTAINABILITY & ENVIRONMENT- Plenty of opportunities exist to study and preserve the natural environment. The COF Center for Sustainability and the Environment offers unique opportunities for students looking to contribute to environmental research and conversation, such as the annual Muddy River Clean-Up, the Muddy River Symposium, and a variety of environmental cross-registration courses, including the COF Environmental Forum, which focuses on different environmental issues each year.
